Description:

LCD screen testing cable for iPhone XR This handy pair of test cables makes it easy to check the functions of a replacement LCD display and digitizer without having to complete the installation and close up the iPhone's case. Indispensable to anyone who makes multiple iPhone XR repairs. With this pair of cables installed in an iPhone XR body you can connect, test, and quickly swap multiple replacement LED displays and digitizers without wearing out the delicate press fit connectors on the logic board.
