Description:

reSTART Adapter for XPIN Clip is used to restart phone with Android after a certain number of attempts to enter the code. Many Samsung Galaxy with a standard TouchWiz overlay has a bug, which cause jams of interface after approx. 25-50 entered codes which prevents the correct bruteforce attack on the PIN. Solution for this is restart phone after 10-20 codes. The adapter can also be used to reset the counter on Android phones 6.x.x, after entering the 10 codes, where each new code can be entered only after 30 seconds. Running phone again, we can again enter 10 codes (including the 30 seconds between successive 5 codes), so that the attack on the 4 pin code can be reduced from approximately 84 hours (120 codes per hour) to 24 hours (420 codes) take into account the average time to start a phone .
